

New Recruit March 2006

A temporary job with the North's biggest independent insurance underwriters has turned into a long-term career for law graduate Colin Thompson.

Colin, 22, was on a three-month temporary contract with BiB Underwriters Ltd in Darlington when a full-time claims negotiator position became available.

Colin, who comes from Darlington and went to Sheffield Hallam University, has begun a six-month training programme with the underwriting team in Valley Street.

Once proficient, his role will be to handle claims made under BiB's agricultural insurance schemes from brokers and intermediaries throughout the UK.
